THE MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE

NEWS LETTER

SENT BY THE COLLEGE TO ALL MIDDLEBURY MEN AND WOMEN

WARREN CASE

COMMENCEMENT REUNIONS
June 16th

VOLUME XXV APRIL, 1951 No. 3

At no time since the early days of World War II has it been so difficult for colleges to make plans for a succeeding academic year. The present atmosphere on the Middlebury campus is more like that of 1941 than of postwar years prior to the Korean conflict. Draft boards are showing interest in our men's student body and reserve commands are calling student members to the colors. At midyear the effect on student enrollment of 692 men was small as only twenty-seven men left College at the close of the first semester to enter the Armed Forces. Estimates of decreases in the enrollment of men in the colleges and universities of the country for next fall, range from twenty-five to eighty per cent. However, no accurate forecast of college enrollments for the 1951–1952 academic year can be made until a new Selective Service Act is passed by the United States Congress. If the Congress passes the Act drafting young men at the age of eighteen, the entering class at Middlebury next fall will be small. Indeed, it will be anyhow. This class comes from the birth year of the depth of the depression and represents the lowest birth rate in the history of the nation. Furthermore, if not drafted, numbers will be reduced due to the abnormally high employment situation now prevalent in industry. The College faces the possibility of a small Freshman Class of men next fall.

For Middlebury there is the possibility of increasing the size of the women's student body but this would mean accepting a very large Freshman Class of women. If we should do this, the College would be committed for four years to a disproportionate number of women students and would not be in a position to accept a normal number of male students when men return to colleges following their period of military service.

With Middlebury tuition at $600 per year, any sizeable decrease in enrollment will bring about a large shrinkage of income and necessitate very careful budgeting. Since payrolls are the largest item of College expenditures, a reduction in the size of staff and faculty is unfortunately about the only way out of the dilemma which all men's colleges face today. Many colleges have already announced the non-reappointment of young faculty members but it is our hope that the normal turnover of our younger faculty personnel may take care of our problem. In short, by not making replacements of those who are leaving voluntarily we may be able to make substantial savings. In addition, there will be a curtailment of the College's athletic program and a reduction in the staff of the Athletic Department.

Because of the situation the College faces, I have appointed a Ways and Means Committee of the Faculty to study our problems and make recommendations. We shall make every effort to preserve the quality of Middlebury instruction and, at the same time, effect all possible economies. The Committee has already recommended that the College should admit Freshman men on July 1, 1951. If a sufficient number of our incoming Freshman men express a desire to matriculate in July rather than in September, a Summer Session for Freshman men will be conducted.

There can be reported for Middlebury some more optimistic aspects of the general situation which confronts our colleges. During these postwar years the College has incurred no deficits and has completed a substantial building program (Student Union Building, Memorial Field House, North Battell and South Battell dormitories, and Carr Hall). The College grounds and buildings have been well maintained and many improvements beyond mere maintenance have been made. We enter upon an uncertain period but we do so with the knowledge that our college is in sound condition. If the international situation permits, after a period of two years, we should be able to return to a normal enrollment and a normal educational budget. In the meantime, we shall need more than ever, the loyal and generous support of our Alumni, Alumnae and friends.

College to Get Large Bequest From Hetty Green Wilks, Estate

Many Alumni and Alumnae have read in their daily newspaper that Middlebury College has been named to receive four shares, valued at approximately $500,000 each, from the $75,000,000 estate of Mrs. Hetty Sylvia Ann Howard Green Wilks, who died on Feb. 5, 1951. The College, however, has received no official communication as to just how much it will actually receive from the four shares.

Very few members of the Middlebury family realize the role President Samuel S. Stratton and the College trustees played in acquiring this important gift.

The NEWS LETTER learned of the part Dr. Stratton and the trustees played in promoting the estimated two-million-dollar-gift through the medium of an anecdote being told these days by Stanley V. Wright, '19, Director of Admissions for Men.

While Stan (as he is known to many Alumni) was driving Dr. Stratton to the College Snow Bowl at Bread Loaf in early February to watch an interscholastic ski meet, the President was glancing over a news story in the Burlington Free Press about the gifts of the Hetty Green Wilks' estate. When Dr. Stratton finished reading the news item, he remarked in disgust to Stan, "why is it that colleges like Harvard always get the large gifts?" The story had not mentioned the four shares of the estate allocated to Middlebury College. (At a later date, the Middlebury gift was featured in a front-page story.)

President Stratton went on to tell Stan that in July of 1948 he called upon the administrator of the Hetty Green Wilks estate in New York City on the suggestion of Ted Lang, '17, a member of the College's Board of Trustees, and that he was disappointed that his visit had produced no results.

Shortly after Dr. Stratton returned to Middlebury later that same day, he received a telephone message from Mr. Lang informing him that Middlebury had been left four shares of the Hetty Green Wilks estate.

On January 19, 1948, President Stratton wrote to Mr. Lang, "It may turn out that your tip to me was a very valuable one, at least I shall continue to think so since we did not get a complete turn-down."

The date on the will of the estate which was made known following the death of Mrs. Wilks was July 27, 1948!

Dr. Stratton, upon being asked by the NEWS LETTER how the gift will be spent, remarked wisely "at Middlebury we don't earmark the spending of money received in gifts until we actually receive the funds." He continued by saying that it will probably be at least two years before the College receives any money from the estate. He pointed out that the sum may be cut considerably through litigation and taxes.

The President said that the College will continue to need contributions to the Alumni Fund for scholarships. "It will be a long time before we receive the money from the Hetty Green Wilks' estate," he said, "and in the meantime we have a most urgent need for scholarship funds."

"Our endowment of nearly five million dollars has been greatly reduced in value by the inflationary trends of the past few years. This large gift will aid materially in leveling the finances of the College," he concluded.

Middlebury to Establish Spanish School in Spain

Arrangements have been completed for the establishment of a Middlebury College Graduate School of Spanish in Spain, it was announced recently by President Stratton.

Dr. Angel del Río, director of the College's Spanish Summer School has returned from Spain where he made final plans with University officials for courses of instruction and living arrangements.

This new school will operate under the supervision of Dr. Stephen A. Freeman, Vice President of the College and Director of the Language Schools. Samuel Guarnaccia, Dean of the Spanish Summer School, will also serve as Dean of the new school. Miss Margarita de Mayo, chairman of the Spanish Department at Vassar College, will go to Spain to serve as Director of Studies for the first academic year. The School in Spain is modeled upon the College's successful Graduate School of French in France, now in its second year of operation with fifty-eight students enrolled. This type of school enables American graduate students to study and live abroad under competent guidance while earning an American advanced degree.

According to plans, a selected group of students will go to Spain in September to spend the entire academic year studying a coordinated program of advanced instruction in Spanish linguistics, phonetics, literature, history, fine arts, and social institutions.

The first semester courses will be held at the University of Madrid where students will have the opportunity to live in the cultural and artistic atmosphere of the Spanish capital. For the second semester they will move to the University of Salamanca to profit from the literary and historical atmosphere of this Spanish city.

College Sends Gift to France

Middlebury College has shipped a modern anaesthetic apparatus to the Edward Herriot Hospital in Lyon, France, as a gift of the students and faculty of the College's French Summer School.

Choir Presents Concert at Town Hall, New York

The College Choir presented a special choral program at Town Hall in New York City on Friday evening, March 30, under the sponsorship of the Middlebury New York-New Jersey Alumnae Association. Mildred E. Becker, '41, was chairman of the committee in charge of handling arrangements.

Professor H. Ward Bedford directed the Choir in a number of Renaissance songs, madrigals, and several contemporary selections. Two of the modern pieces, "The 13th Psalm" and the "150th Psalm," were written especially for the Choir by Dr. Jean Berger of the Middlebury College Department of Music.

Distinguished Speakers Discuss World Crisis At Middlebury Conference

An optimistic belief that truth will emerge through man's stupidity, barbarity, and ignorance was the closing note of the Ninth Annual Middlebury College Conference at which eight distinguished speakers discussed "The American Response to World Crisis."

Speakers at the 1951 Conference, March 17 and 18, included: Francis B. Sayre, U.S. Representative in the United Nations Trusteeship Council; Edwin G. Nourse, former Chairman of the Council of Economic Advisors to the President; William L. Shirer, commentator and author; Michael Straight, editor of NEW REPUBLIC; Foster R. Dulles, professor of history at Ohio State University and expert on the Far East; Edmund Fuller, author and book critic; Ira Wolfert, author and newspaperman; and Robert S. Babcock, assistant professor of political science at the University of Vermont.

In a brief opening address President Samuel S. Stratton tersely described "Crisis" as "danger—plus opportunity."

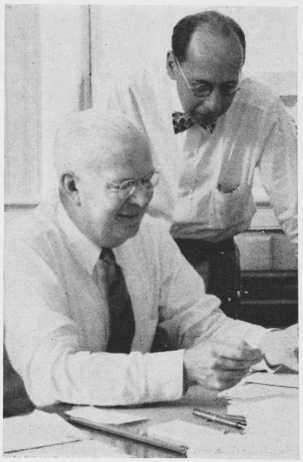
Mr. Sayre gave the keynote address in which he defended the sending of American troops into Korea. "American troops entered Korea because a great moral principle was at stake and not to further any selfish interest. Any nation that bases its policies upon purely selfish national interests is taking the sure path to a Third World War," declared the former assistant Secretary of State.

Mr. Sayre concluded his keynote speech on a hopeful note which permeated the entire two-day Conference. "In the face of present crises, one thing is clear in my mind—this is a tremendous day in which to be alive," he said. "Youth has the chance in the coming years to write some of the brightest chapters we have known in American history. Rejoice that you have the chance to spend your lives for so tremendous a cause."

In the domestic panel, Mr. Nourse deplored the character of America's response to world crisis. "Since the outbreak of aggression in Korea we have given a bad account of ourselves," said the economist. "This is not a sudden reversal of form because long before Korea we had shown a deterioration of economic behavior unworthy of our behavior. Since Korea we have not improved the pattern of our conduct. Consumers, businessmen, and government agencies scramble to hoard materials, and manpower hastens to put itself into a favorable position when or if scarcities develop. This battling does not augur well for our successes in the present crisis or for our ability to live peacefully and with maximum productivity thereafter," he warned.

Also in the domestic panel, Mr. Fuller focused upon moral aspects of America's response to world crisis. "I do not think that the world can be saved through military and economic power," he said. "A military and economic victory might defeat the enemy, but it will not defeat what motivates the enemy. This is something that we must fight in our individual inner selves. Fundamentally, a moral war faces our generation," said the resident of nearby Shoreham.

In the international panel, William L. Shirer warned about German rearmament. "A twenty-division German army as now planned by the Western Allies might drag us into a war with Soviet Russia to regain lost German provinces," he said. Darker still was Shirer's mention that a new German army would be strongly tempted to enter common cause with the Soviet Union. "Any idea that the Germans are going to sacrifice their nation in defense of the Western World is absurd," declared the author of "Berlin Diary."



A long and well-deserved rest is being taken by Edgar J. Wiley, Director of Alumni Relations. Following a trip to dinner reunions in the West he became very tired and shortly after returning to Middlebury, ill. He has been granted a six months' leave of absence by the College. Arrangements have been made within the staff of the Alumni office to carry on in Mr. Wiley's absence. Above, Mr. Wiley and Karl A. Brautigam, '22 (standing).

Hockey Scoreboard Donated To Middlebury College

A handsome electrically operated hockey scoreboard, donated by Carleton H. Simmons, '28, and Stillman Kelly, '29, in memory of Harold B. Whittemore, '28, was dedicated on March 8th at the ice arena of the World War II Memorial Field House and Gymnasium prior to a freshman hockey game between Middlebury and Kimball Union Academy. The clock has room for scores, penalties, time elapsed, and minutes in the penalty box for each team.

Mr. Whittemore died last year. He was one of the College's greatest hockey players in the annuals of Middlebury sports. President Stratton spoke at the dedication of the hockey scoreboard and paid tribute to the memory of Mr. Whittemore.

Preliminary Report on the 1951 Alumni Fund Drive

With the closing date of the 1951 Alumni Fund Drive less than twelve weeks away, eight hundred and seventy-four Middlebury Alumni and Alumnae with the help of forty-four parents and friends of the College, had subscribed $11,153.80 toward the current goal of $17,500 as the News Letter is going to press on March 20th. This amount in donations equals approximately the income on one-third of a million dollars of endowment. It seems fairly certain that with the growing enthusiasm on the part of Alumni and Alumnae for having at least a small part to play in the living endowment scholarship project, the Alumni Fund goal of $17,500 should be reached by the end of the 1951 drive on June fifteenth. A much larger percentage of Alumni and Alumnae are expected to be listed in the final tabulation of annual-giving supporters which will be published in the July News Letter.

Keynoting this year's drive for scholarship money are the interesting and enthusiastic letters of Class Fund Chairmen to their constituents. Following are a few excerpts from letters now being circulated among fourteen different classes.

Last year only fourteen per cent of the men in our class contributed, which really put us at the bottom of the Totem Pole. I think in the order of finishes based on per cent of participation, we were ninety-eighth out of one hundred and two. We should never let that happen again.

George Hinman, '28

I was very glad to hear from so many last year and very proud of our relative standing in the final report, which showed that 55.26 of our 1912 women participated, but I hope that we shall do much better this year.

When we consider that per cent of participation can be raised by the gift of just one dollar, by someone who did not give last year, it seems that great improvement in our figures is within our reach. Last year 21 of us gave. That means that 18 did not give. Though college may seem long ago and far away, I feel sure that there isn't one of us who does not know what Middlebury did towards shaping our lives. When we think of the incomparable value in growth and perception that we received at Middlebury, can we refrain from helping to pass on those gifts to some aspiring and worthy student of today? A gift of one dollar will put us on the list of those who want the enrichment of life, that Middlebury gave to us, to be handed on.

Of course, we don't need to stop at one dollar. Anyone having one, two or any number of thousands to bestow, may do so. Only let us each do something and so raise our per cent of participation! There's a class near us with a record just 9.6 better. Let's beat it!

Yours, for a pull all together in the spirit of the old days.

Margaret Croft, '12

No one will deny that the object of the 1950–51 Fund is to raise money. Let me suggest, however, that there is no better way to affirm your loyalty to the college and to your class than to get your name on the subscription list. I am very serious when I say that I would rather see one hundred contributions of $1.00 each than four contributions of $25.00. Middlebury needs the giver as well as the gift; won't you go on record as a giver?

Just a thought for those who have not forgotten the grip: Alpha Sig's took top honors last year with five contributors; DU's and KDR's tied with three each; Sig Ep's, Beta Kap's, Deke's, and Chi Psi's chalked up one apiece.

Gentlemen, are you going to let the Alpha Sig's get away with it again? Please send your subscription direct to the Alumni Fund in Middlebury.

Charles N. DuBois, '34

Last year the women of '41 stood 67th out of a possible 91 places in men and women's class participation. But in women's participation we were in 45th place out of a possible 48, with 23.21% participation. I mention this only as a point of information. I believe that alumnae should contribute because they see the need of an Alumni Fund for Middlebury and not merely for the reason of class pride.

Norma Winberg Unsworth, '41

I am thoroughly sold on this because believe in private education and I think that the only way that Middlebury and other private educational institutions can survive is by the support of their alumni. If we do not do it, the only alternative is government subsidized education. I think we must expect fewer big gifts to increase our endowment and the income from the funds provided by endowment goes less and less far. It seems to me that annual giving is the only answer to the problem. . . Remember that even a dollar increases our percent of participation. And $10.00 equals $300.00 of endowment.

Paris Fletcher, '24

We all know how hard hit the colleges are going to be in the coming years. Middlebury will need students and it will need scholarships.

This last fall a hurricane hit the campus and much physical damage was done. When our Alma Mater is in distress, that is the time when we rally to her support.

Let's mail our contribution today to the Alumni Fund, Middlebury, Vermont, and send someone else to college. Every little bit helps. It's the old 1911 Midd spirit that counts.

JENNIE McLELLAN DALE, '11

The time has arrived for us to again come to the aid of our College and as you will realize from the last News Letter it is really a must that we contribute generously to the ALUMNI FUND for '51.

Last year fifteen of us, less than 30% contributed $351.50. This year we should and can and must do better—considering the storm damage and the World situation we know that Middlebury needs our help and good will as never before in her glorious history.

Do your part by sending the enclosed card direct to Midd and I am sure that there will be much satisfaction in knowing that you have done your share.

SUMNER D. HARRISON, '17

So, my ever-loyal mates, let's wake up and spurt on from here to do as much better than our 60% contributors of 1949–50 as we possibly can. The last mentioned on the 1949–50 class participation list of topnotchers had only 64.86.% We weren't far behind, and just one more contributor of 1905 would give us 66.66%. Can't we make it? And remember that, while we'd all like to give generously, it's even more important that everybody should have a share.

I can count on you, can't I, to get busy at once and keep our class showing up to its usual high standard?

ALICE POTTER ELLIOTT, '05

Just because it has been more than fifteen years since we wandered around the Campus together up in Middlebury is no reason why I should forget you. I know of no better way of keeping up our college contacts than through the medium of The Alumni Fund. This gives us an opportunity not to forget The College on the Hill too, and all the memories and traditions for which it is famous.

Sure you help when they have a drive for the Community Chest, The Red Cross, March of Dimes, etc., maybe not all of them, but some at least, and we all agree that their purpose is worthwhile. I also learn in my business that people become "Insurance Poor", what that means I am not at all sure. One thing I am sure of is that the College needs our support, and needs it badly. I, for one, feel I still want to be a part of Middlebury, and I think all of you will join with me on this point.

BURTON HOLMES, '35

We have been out of College over fifty years now and old age is creeping upon us. For many of us earnings are less and this means a careful planning of the budget. But love for our Alma Mater is as strong as ever and we appreciate all that Middlebury did for us. We grieve over the disaster caused by the storm in November, but we are proud of the way the students and townspeople have worked to restore order.

So where our budget will allow it, let us send a check for at least one dollar (more where possible) to The Alumni Fund, Middlebury, in order that our College may continue to rank among the first and give help to worthy students.

RENA BISBEE HADLEY, '00

"Old Middlebury goes fighting along." When we were in College every boy who needed a scholarship was given a scholarship. Some of us could not have gone to college without that aid. Many worthy boys are in that fix today, but the College does not have the money to help them. By contributing to the Alumni Fund you can help make it possible for such boys to stay in college.

E. G. BRIDGHAM, '97

This is our reunion year—our 35th. The College is all set to welcome us back as old and valued friends. We shall get a royal welcome whether or not we give to the Fund. Personally I shall feel happier about the whole thing if I feel I am even a little on the giving as well as receiving end.

I hope each of you will feel this way, too. I hope you will sit down right now and mail your check—small or large—to the Alumni Fund in Middlebury.

Repair of the hurricane damage will naturally put a strain on the College resources. For one, I am especially anxious lest this strain should reduce the funds available to aid worthy students at Midd. More than ever the College needs money to carry on its scholarship aid. As you know, the Alumni Fund is again dedicated to that purpose. This seems an appropriate time to start giving if you have not done so before, and to continue your giving if you have already experienced the satisfaction that comes from such action. This is not a sob-story request. Frankly, it's a mighty good investment.

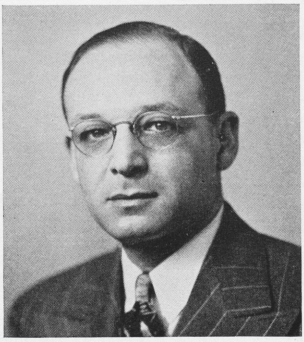
DAVID F. HOWE, '29

Serving as foreign trade manager of an association of commerce in a city like Milwaukee which, though thousands of miles from the sea, is one of the nation's leading export cities is the unique position occupied by David F. Howe, '29. Mr. Howe assumed his present position in 1946 after serving more than three years in the Navy during World War II, and is one of the leading figures in world trade circles in Wisconsin's number-one city.

Upon his graduation from Middlebury College in 1929, Mr. Howe served as a commercial representative of the New York Telephone Company in New York City for two years and then joined a building materials firm in Mt. Kisco, New York, as general manager. In 1934, Mr. Howe went to Milwaukee as assistant manager of the Milwaukee and Wisconsin Exposition, a week-long trade fair conducted by the Milwaukee Association of Commerce. Following the Exposition, Mr. Howe joined the Association staff in 1936 as assistant manager of its Convention Bureau. In this capacity, he was engaged in the promotion and operation of conventions and trade shows until July, 1942, when he entered the Navy in World War II.

Mr. Howe, after leaving the Navy, returned to the Convention Bureau and continued in that field until 1946. At that time he was chosen to manage the Foreign Trade Division of the Association of Commerce, the position he presently occupies.

During the past two years, Mr. Howe has been actively affiliated with a number of organizations growing out of his Naval service and has served as commander of the Milwaukee Chapter, and later State commander, of the Military Order of World Wars.



RICHARD RAPPORT, '25

Bank Commissioner Richard Rapport, '25, who has served in the Connecticut banking department for 25 years, the last seven as commissioner, has resigned his commissionership to become executive manager of the Connecticut Bankers Association.

The Connecticut Bankers Association, composed of 109 commercial banks of Connecticut, both state and national, recently created the position of executive manager. As such, Commissioner Rapport is the liaison officer of the association, directs its various activities, is in charge of research and represents the association in legislative matters.

"The association is fortunate indeed to have Mr. Rapport for its first full time executive manager," said Winthrop W. Spencer, president of the Colonial Trust Company of Waterbury, the president of the association.

When Governor Lodge of Connecticut was informed that Commissioner Rapport intended to resign, he said: "Because of Mr. Rapport's record as a public servant of uncommon integrity and capacity, I know that his departure will be widely regretted."

Mr. Rapport has spent most of his business life in the Connecticut banking department. A native of Hartford, Connecticut, he was graduated from Middlebury College in 1925. He majored in economics.

KENNETH MacCLELLAND '30

"Designing for television calls for devising the scenic and property gags in relation to theatre practice within the limits of the camera," says Kenneth MacClelland, '30, Middlebury alumnus and brilliant scenic designer for CBS-TV, Hollywood.

"Not only must the set be practical from a staging point of view, but it also must be photogenic," adds Mr. MacClelland, whose artistically practical sets for the "Jack Benny Show" and the "Alan Young Show" have won him the plaudits of stage, screen and TV experts.

Mr. MacClelland's background of 22 years of scenic designing has included work in many media, including little theatre, operas, music festivals, ice shows, motion pictures, legitimate drama and children's fantasies. He started his designing career for Little Theatre productions while a student at Middlebury College. Later he became one of the first three scenic designers on New York's Federal Theatre project.

He did the designing-board creating for a total of 23 Worcester, Mass., operas and Lake Chautauqua, N. Y., annual music festivals before going to Hollywood.

Mr. MacClelland worked in major film studios a total of five years, at Paramount and Columbia Pictures. He worked on two DeMille films, "The Story of Dr. Wassell" and "The Unconquered." Other picture credits include "Two Years Before the Mast," "The Lost Weekend," "Here Comes the Waves," and "Mexican Hayride."

REPORTING THE STUDENT SIDE OF MIDDLEBURY NEWS

Charles L. Sanford, '42, is acting as instructor in American Literature during the sabbatical leave of Professor Reginald L. Cook, '24. David K. Smith, '42, has been appointed Assistant Professor of Economics. Recently, he received his doctorate from Harvard. James B. Van Wart, '48, is instructor in Speech and Drama. . . . Changes on the campus: The Infirmary is now settled in Hillside. Ross House is the new Spanish House. Willard House is the new name for Battell Cottage, in honor of Emma Hart Willard, pioneer in the education for women. . . . Dr. Stephen A. Freeman has announced that Daniel J. Petrizzi, '48, is the recipient of the Fullbright Award, a scholarship for foreign study. . . . Cornelia Otis Skinner, famed author and star of several Broadway hits, opened the College Concert-Lecture Series, with her presentation of "The Wives of Henry VIII."

After a four-hundred-mile sojourn which took thirty years, a battered but prized fraternity scholarship cup has been returned to its Delta Kappa Epsilon home at Middlebury. Designed in 1920 as a scholarship award to a class within the DKE house "for excellence in scholarship," the cup disappeared mysteriously in 1921 after being awarded but once and on that occasion to the Class of 1920 which won the prize with a 78.3 average. It was learned recently that it was carried to Wesleyan as a fraternity initiation stunt. It remained in the DKE fraternity house on the campus of Wesleyan in Middletown, Conn., until a Trinity student transported the cup to Hartford in a similar initiation stunt last year. George T. Underhill, the Trinity student, made a special trip to Middlebury for the purpose of returning the cup.

Middlebury College is the setting of Skymountain, a teen-age novel by Amelia Walden. . . . President Gregg M. Sinclair of the University of Hawaii visited the College during a recent tour of this country. . . . Twenty-five members of the faculty and staff of the College are eligible for possible recall to duty in the Armed Forces because of their reserve status. . . . Dr. Henry Steele Commager, noted American historian and author, was the 1951 Abernethy speaker. . . . Miss Harriet B. Winsor of Springfield, Mass., bequeathed $10,000 to Middlebury for scholarships.

New York State contributes twenty-nine per cent of the 1950–51 enrollment of the College. The enrollment of students this year reached 1220 men and women. New York led all other states with a total of 351 students. Massachusetts, with 222 men and women, ranked second in the geographic breakdown. Vermont was third, New Jersey fourth, and Connecticut fifth. . . . Haydn Trevor Mason of Tenby, Pembrokeshire, Wales, is attending Middlebury under the terms of a Rotary Foundation Fellowship. . . . Dr. Philip S. Hench, father of Mary S. Hench, '51, has been awarded the Nobel Prize in Medicine.

The Mountain Club has erected a new cabin on the College's Bread Loaf mountain campus. Located on the top of Worth Mountain, overlooking Lake Pleiad, the cabin will be used by the Mountain Club for overnight hikes and as a warming cabin for competitors during skiing competition at the Snow Bowl. . . . Thomas W. Leavitt, '51, was the winner of the 1951 Winter Carnival Poster contest. . . . One hundred and seventy-five men were pledged by fraternities, while eighty-eight women were pledged to Middlebury's seven national sororities. . . .

Eighty-five Middlebury students visited the United Nations at Lake Success this winter under the auspices of the Political Science Dept. . . . The Vermont Lease Lands, a new book by Walter T. Bogart, head of the Political Science Dept. has recently been published. . . . John R. Walsh, '51, has won a Rhodes Scholarship for a minimum of two years' study at Oxford University, England. The Rhodes Scholarship, which is awarded annually to thirty-two college students in the United States, is one of the highest scholastic awards in the United States. Not since 1938 has a Middlebury College student received this award. . . . Donald W. Sherburne, '51, was named winner of the 1951 Dutton Fellowship. Walsh was granted this fellowship, but relinquished the honor when he won the Rhodes Scholarship. The Dutton Fellowship, established in 1926 by the Honorable Redfield Proctor, former Governor of Vermont and long a trustee of the College, provides for a year of graduate study at an approved institution in an English-speaking country, France, or the Netherlands.

The New York Central Railroad is currently featuring Middlebury College on the cover of its dining car menu in a series of college campuses which it has recently been presenting. . . . Twenty-two students received degrees in February at the end of the first semester. They included: Charles H. Bond, Joseph E. Borst, Bruce E. Burdett, William J. Cunningham, Ralph R. Eddy, Corwin S. Elwell, Raymond A. Gadaire, Bruce B. Guillan, James W. Kitchell, Alexander G. Marshall, Jr., John E. Mulcahy, John R. Walsh, Cyrus B. Whitney, Andrew T. Yang, Charles H. Zuccki, Frances M. Bartlett, Joan E. Hallett, and Pauline L. Wilkins. . . . The Fine Arts Dept. has received an oil painting by Emil J. Cosa, Jr., of California, as a gift of Lawrence McCoy, Manchester, Vt. . . . The Sesquicentennial issue of the Kaleidoscope was mailed to Alumni and Alumnae subscribers in early March. . . .

Margaret E. Packard, '51, and Thomas M. Jacobs, '51, were crowned King and Queen of the 20th Annual Middlebury College Winter Carnival on Feb. 22nd. They had been nominated and elected by the entire student body as the senior man and woman most typifying Middlebury College and the Spirit of Carnival. . . . Eleven men's colleges competed in the skiing competition at the College's Snow Bowl. Dartmouth placed first and Middlebury was runner-up in second place. . . . The women's collegiate meet was again won by Middlebury for the fifth consecutive year. . . . Vern Goodwin and Tom Jacobs of the Middlebury ski team have been selected as members of the United States Olympic team. . . . Middlebury's varsity hockey team experienced a most successful season this winter. The Panthers lost only two out of a total of fourteen games. The College basketball team ended the season by defeating the University of Vermont by a 61 to 55 score.

ALUMNI IN THE HEADLINES

KENNETH MacCLELLAND—behind the scenes" for CBS-TV, Hollywood, Mr. MacClelland designed the now-famous airplane set and the equally-remembered shell hole set for the first "Alan Young Show," which scored such a big hit with critics and public alike.

"In stage design, your set composition is visualized as from dead center in the audience," Mr. MacClelland says. "In the model form—the next step after the basic planning and sketching—you are able to view the set from other angles. And when you start moving the model around you often find disturbing lines that don't show up from dead center. We must compromise perspective with the cameras so it looks fairly reasonable from any angle. My formula has been to work as freely as possible with the model, then make whatever changes are necessary on the drafting board," says the Middlebury alumnus.

Regional Dinner Notes

January–February, 1951

By E. J. WILEY, Director of Alumni Relations

Dallas, Texas joined the list of dinner centers of the Middlebury Alumni-Alumnae for the first time this year. Presidential problems inherent in the uncertainties of College administration in the current emergency cut down Dr. Stratton's dinner itinerary plans for the 1951 season from attendance at most of the twenty regional gatherings to the New York and Boston meetings, and the final dinner of the season in Middlebury, Vermont. But news from the campus was taken to the early season gatherings by Stanley V. Wright, '18, Director of Admissions, and by the Director of Alumni Relations. "Local celebrities," too, were drafted to speak and added much to the interest of the programs in the various centers. Parents of students in College were invited this year and a number attended the various meetings.
